Sadie Watkins who was the d/o of Ben and Martha Watkins. A funny thing about George's middle named I remember my Dad and his siblings refer to this brother as ace. She was a good cook and an excellent pie baker (one of those who measured by a pinch, a feel, etc.) Aunt Maize died of cancer and the funeral was held at : home on Tuesday, 21 of Oct. at 2 P.M. with the Rev. They were very active in their church and used to attend evening services most every day when Letty came home from work (when I used to visit them, I remember Letty and Aunt Emma eating their dinner and then going off to their church, leaving dinner on the back burner for Uncle Jesse, Lorraine and (I) Letty was very thin and quite fussy; about her appearance- always very

She m. 25 Oct., 1958 to Jacob Updegrove who was the s/o Harry and Jennie (Docky) Updegrove. He was b. 17 July, 1910. Jake was a Barber and had his shop in Florida. Letty and Jake had gone to school together; Jake's wife had died and they remet after many years. This writer did not know Jake, but a cousin Marion (291) told me that he was a prince of a fellow. After the marriage Aunt Emma moved down to Fla. and lived with Letty and Jake. Aunt Emma and Letty both took ill about the same time and both were in a nursing home at the end of their lives. The sad part was that Letty died before her Mother and before her marriage she had a Will leaving everything to her Mother or her sister and had not changed the Will. Jake had gotten rid of most of his things to make room for Letty's in their home, so Lorraine got all of Letty's things and, I am told, left Jake's home just about bare! NI

He was in the U.S. Army in the WWI and was stationed in France, but did not get to the front. After the war he lived and worked in Ohio for a short time. Bert was a Reed Maker. Bert m. 28 June, 1920 to Mary Delaney at the Rectory of St. Edward's Catholic Church in Shamokin. At the time of the marriage Bert was working in Hazelton Pa. and so they made their first home there. Harrisburg Consistory, Craftsman Club. In 1922 Mother's Mother died and on her death bed she asked Mary to return home to manage the place for her Father, so Bert and Mary moved back to Shamokin and Bert worked at odd positions for a time. When one of Mary's sisters became a widow, she returned home and this freed Bert and Mary. For a time Bert, with his brother, Hugh, ran the Park Hotel in Canton Al this was during prohibition. Although I was just a little shave at that time I remember there was a raid and the men even came upstairs to our living quarters and I was playing house in what I called my play area. They stopped and watched me, then finally moved on. After they had gone, Daddy came up and took the bottles from in my little piano, crib, and cabinets! We lived, for a short time in Scranton, Newark, N.J. and finally Dad got a job in Columbia, Pa. which was to last for about 3 months, but here they remained as long as he lived.

While in Columbia Bert went into business for himself and as such, he serviced silk mills in a wide area and had a good business. Bert and Mary both played the piano. When he played everyone around stopped what they were doing to listen for he had an unusual touch. He could play most all musical instruments. They both painted china and always, at our home, crafts were in progress. Bert could draw and paint and print exceptional well. He was a magician as a hobby and helped a friend of his put on Magic Shows. He built doll furniture for Mother and I that is outstanding-all with a knife. My brother and I saved one year and purchased a jigsaw for him, but he never used it! Bert was also a great reader and if he had nothing else to read, he picked up the dictionary! Loved poetry and classical music. But this writer never saw him work in our yards! He always paid a man to take care of mowing and weeding. Bert was very Victorian - even on the hottest days of summer he would not sit on our front porch unless he had on a vest, coat and hat! When rayon came on the market, Bert's business failed, but that was coming close to WWII and so he took a Job as inspection at the Army Depot in MIddletown, Pa. In 1951 he had a stroke, but snapped back and continued to work for a couple more years, then his heart started giving trouble and he was retired. It is sad to think that today he could have an operation, but not then. Mary, d/o John Joseph and Mary (Flynn) Delaney, was b. 13 June, 1896 in Shamokin and d. 17 Nov., 1988 in Lancaster, Pa. She had been an operator for a short time before her marriage. She, too, enjoyed doing crafts and so we always had things of interest to help us. Both Mary and Bert loved Pinhole and played a couple hands most every evening they were home. This writer remembers that our home was next to the American Legion in Columbia and when they were tipped off about a raid on their slot machines they would bring them over to our home and set them in our dining room - oh, how angry my Mother used to get then, but my Dad said we had to help the Legion for he, too, was a veteran. They had 3 issues Marijane A. (413), Walton H. (414), and Bert W.

BERT WILLIAM b 24 Apr., 1931. He was a premature baby and did well until he developed pneumonia and d. 18 Apr., 1932. He is buried with his maternal grandparents in the Catholic Cem. outside of Mt. Carmel. After Bert Sr. died Mary stayed on in their home for about 5 years, then she moved in with us and remained in our home for 7 years, then she took a small apartment just down the street from our home. Here she remained and kept active until she was about 91, then she slowed down and in Sept. of 1988 she entered the Hamilton Arms Rest Home. She fell after she was there about a month and never recovered from the fall. Both my parents are buried in St. Peter's Cem. between Columbia and Marietta.

JOAN BARCEYNSKE (301)

During this period they lived in or near Scranton. For a short time they lived in Williamsport, Pa. Then they moved to Lebanon and Dick worked in a furniture store. For a time he had a furniture store of his own in Elizabethtown, Pa. and the family lived in an apartment above the store. Later they moved back to Lebanon. Dick was a grand person, always so pleasant. For some reason my parents were closer to Dick and Jennie than to all of my Dad's other cousins. They had 4 issue: Alberta, Leon J., Gertrude (420), and Reina (421).

ALBERTA b. 3 Jan., 1904 in Plymouth, Pa. "Bert", as she was called. m. 26 Sept., 1929 to Daniel C. Foley who was b. 12 July, 1906 in Scranton Pa. and d. 28 Mar., 1967 in Lebanon, Pa. Dan was an automobile salesman in Scranton and when Bert's family moved to Lebanon they moved here too and Dan continued to sell cars. They had 1 issue: Joan

(I) Joan Marie b. 31 Aug., 1930 in Scranton and d. 17 Feb., 1967 in Cherry Hill, N.J. She is buried in Lebanon. Joan m. Kaz Barceynski and they had a son John b. 26 Dec., 1958. This writer never heard the full story, but one Saturday evening Kaz beat Joan to death. Her family said that they felt that he never meant to kill her. At the time of her death, her Dad was very ill and his family never told him of her death. Joan was a very pretty child and quite spoiled - an only child to her parents and when she was young, an only grandchild and an only niece! This writer remembers going shopping with Joan's Aunt Reina and taking Joan with us and her aunt buying her things she thought she wanted. Kaz has since remarried and lives in the Washington, D.C. area. Son John remained with his Dad. His Aunt pert said that John is now married. After Dan died Bert moved into an apartment for senior citizens, then later into a nursing home. Bert died sometime in the late 1980s.

LEON J. b. 23 Sept., 1907 and d. 31 Jan., 1938. Leon looked more like a Jewish man than his Dad did! Everyone loved him for he was simply nice. He was engaged to marry an Irish girl from Scranton, but before the marriage took place, his appendix ruptured and he died. During the depression Leon tried his luck as a vacuum sweeper salesman, going door to door. He would give the lady of the house a demonstration and she would state that it was grand, but she could not even afford to buy all the food she needed so how could she buy a sweeper. Then Leon would not only not make a sale, but he would leave some money there for the lady because he felt so sorry for her. His Dad finally told him to stop cause it was not the way a Jewish Man was suppose to act! But his Dad, Dick, was so full of pride when he told the story! After Dick died, Jennie went to live with her dau. Reina who was also a widow at that time. Jennie had a stroke and recovered fairly well, but moved slower. One time she was visiting us my husband made drinks for everyone. There were a good many folks there at the time and Win had to use glasses that we did not often use. Among them was a "trick" glass that was a cut glass and at 4 points was cut through so that it "leaked". Win did not realize it was with these glasses and as luck would have it Dear Jennie got that glass. She sipped and wiped several times, then put the glass down and did not touch it again. When we discovered later that she had the glass we wrote and told her and how she laughed!
